

About CANA Advisors

CANA is a veteran woman owned small business headquartered in Northern Virginia. Composed primarily of U.S. military veterans, we have achieved short-term success performing operations management, product distribution, and logistics and supply chain advisory services. Our clients include some of the largest industrial engineering, transportation and product services corporations in the world, which serve the global market with specific focus on the Federal Government.

Our Professional Advantage

CANA offers solutions with the lowest risk and highest level of understanding possible. We are a nimble, responsive team of highly skilled personnel with the intellectual capital and practical program management experience building and implementing sophisticated commercial and government programs. We believe that weaving together a set of common processes ensures consistent, repeatable, and measurable performance improvements, making a critical impact towards our clients' mission and revenue success.
